Introduction

Welcome to Section 5, and congratulations on making it so far.

Tim Buchalka here again. This next section is dealing with four really important concepts of Java.

We're talking about Expressions, Statements, Code Blocks, and Methods.

These are four really key components of Java. It's really important that you get a good understanding of these, and that's the goal of this section, to give you that understanding.

So, let's make a start.
